

Sampling of hard coal to ISO 18283/ DIN 51701

One-day expert seminar including an examination

German – English simultaneous interpreting service will be provided.

Authorities (such as the German emissions trading authority DEHSt), national accreditation bodies (e.g. the German accreditation body DAkkS) and clients require that sampling be carried out only by persons who have the necessary professional competence to carry out the sampling.

This one-day seminar is designed for samplers wishing to develop the necessary professional competence.

After successful examination, participants will be awarded a certificate of professional competence.

Professional qualification can be proven by qualified training (university studies, etc.) or documented practical experience of many years (at least five years) in combination with successful participation in this training course for samplers.

Topics covered:

- Why is sampling so important?
- Sampling uncertainty
- ISO/IEC 17025 General requirements for the competence of testing and calibration laboratories
- ISO/IEC 17020 Conformity assessment – Requirements for the operation of various types of bodies performing inspection
- Basic knowledge of statistics
- Proficiency tests (round robin tests), interlaboratory comparisons
- Internal audits
